Unrivaled Flexibility, Durability and Performance

Strategy SX™ combines the latest in operator comfort and ergonomics with superior cable management and technology integration. Built on an aerospace-grade extruded frame, this console has been specifically designed for technology intensive, 24/7 environments.

From generous leg room to patented ergonomic nosing and adjustable monitor mounts, Strategy SX is designed to help the operator perform at optimal efficiency. With almost endless configuration and finishing options Strategy SX is the most complete and adaptable console on the market.

Built to Last, Designed to Impress

The heavy-duty extruded metal frame offers superior strength and durability and the re-engineered structure allows for increased cavity room inside the console.

Fully customized end panels are a great way to exercise your creativity. Choose from glass, metal or laminate, then get creative with colors, logos, lights and more. The Strategy SX pushes the boundaries of what is possible.

STRATEGY SX

Unlimited Design Configurations

Place individual consoles, rows of operators, or clusters of collaborative groups in your control room with ease. The modular design of Strategy SX fits your needs today and allows you to scale for future requirements.

Choose Your Slat System

Strategy SX incorporates the latest in slat support technology. Choose from a slatwall or slatrail system. Both can handle a variety of mounted accessories including multiple monitors. The slatwall is available in a single, double or triple high configuration. The slatrail can be curved to fit within a curved console configuration.

Easy Access Cable Management

Strategy SX utilizes wider and deeper cable raceways, allowing you to run more cables in an organized manner. Full front and rear access makes adding or changing cabling quick and easy. This sophisticated integrated cable management system hides cables within the frame and ensures a clutter-free workspace with a modern look.
